philadelphia IN THE Summer

Plan a Summer Vacation in Philadelphia

For a summer vacation that's different, visit Philadelphia. Here are all the conveniences only a modern city can offer, uniquely combined with sites rich in historic significance and opportunities to enjoy unusual big-city diversions such as trout fishing, horseback riding, boating and swimming.

HISTORIC PHILADELPHIA

The shrine of liberty in the United States has been given a new and fitting setting. Independence Hall now faces a three-block, tree-shaded esplanade from which the visitor may view the Hall and its surrounding buildings as they appeared in Revolutionary days. Approaches to other historic buildings in the area also are being improved in a joint Federal-State-City project.

THE NATION'S BIRTHPLACE

See the Liberty Bell; the meeting place of the First Continental Congress; historic churches where Washington, Franklin and other early patriots worshipped. Among the most famous sites, most of them within easy walking distance of mid-city hotels, are:

BETSY ROSS HOUSE . . . 239 Arch Street. Daily, Sunday 10-4:30. Free. Relics from the life and times of the seamstress who made the first American flag. MA 7-5343.

HISTORIC CHURCHES IN MID-CITY

CHRIST CHURCH . . . 2nd above Market. Daily 9-6. Washington and other patriots worshipped here. Seven signers of the Declaration of Independence, including Franklin, are buried here and in Burial Ground, 5th and Arch.

MOTHER BETHEL A.M.E. CHURCH . . . 6th and Lombard. Daily, Sunday 10-5. Mother church of the African Methodist Episcopal denomination, and link in the "Underground Railway."

OLD ST. GEORGE'S METHODIST CHURCH . . . 235 N. 4th Street. Daily, Sunday 10-4 except Christmas day. The oldest Methodist church edifice in continuous service in the world.

OLD ST. JOSEPH'S R. C. CHURCH . . . 321 Willing's Alley (300 block Walnut). Oldest R. C. Church in Pennsylvania. Open every day.

OLD ST. MARY'S R. C. CHURCH . . . 252 S. 4th. Washington attended mass here before meeting Cornwallis and his forces. Daily, Sunday 8-6.

OLD SWEDE'S EPISCOPAL CHURCH . . . (Gloria Dei) Delaware and Washington Aves. City's oldest church. Betsy Ross was married here. Daily 9-5.

ST. PETER'S EPISCOPAL CHURCH . . . 3rd and Pine. An unusually fine example of Colonial church architecture preserved intact. Daily, Sunday 9-5.

Independence Day Celebrations

The Fourth of July has a special meaning in Philadelphia, where the Declaration of Independence was signed. Ceremonies are centered around Independence Hall, and range from solemn avowals of faith in the principles of American freedom to fireworks and band music. The program promises activity from 9 a.m. to 10 p.m.

Join the national pilgrimage to the "Cradle of Liberty" and spend Freedom Week, July 1-6, in Philadelphia.

VISIT CITY HALL

Millions of visitors have toured Philadelphia's monumental City Hall during the past half century. The nineteenth century structure, a rare example in America of good French Renaissance-style architecture, is a storehouse of wonder for the curious and adventuresome. Free guided tours explore the magnificent Mayor's Reception Room, City Council, court chambers and the police Radio Room. Always popular is the splendid view from Billy Penn's tower, the highest point in the city. Weekdays, 8:45 a.m. to 3:45 p.m. Tours start from Room 121, MU 6-9700, ext. 925.

The City Representative's Office also will arrange special tours of the Port of Philadelphia, International Airport, pumping stations, among others, for groups of ten or more persons having private transportation. Room 201, City Hall, MU 6-9700, ext. 943.

Robin Hood Dell Concerts

Philadelphia's annual summer music festival offers, free for all to hear, one of the nation's finest symphony orchestras plus world-famous soloists in an unparalleled open-air amphitheater.

The lovely natural surroundings of the newly-rebuilt Dell create an effect which enhances the glorious music. Conductors for the festival's six weeks will include Alfred Wallenstein, Paul Paray, Robert Zeller, Franz Allers, Alexander Hilsberg, Vladimir Golschmann, and José Iturbi.

Out-of-town visitors may secure free tickets in advance from the Philadelphia Convention and Visitors Bureau, Penn Square Building, Philadelphia, Pa. The schedule follows:

JUNE: 17—Alexander Brailowsky, pianist. 18—Orchestral program. 20—Isaac Stern, violinist. 24—Eileen Farrell, soprano soloist. 25—Orchestral program. 27—Erica Morini, violinist.

JULY: 1, 2—Royal Danish Ballet. 4—Igor Gorin, baritone. 8—Luboshutz & Nemenoff, duo-pianists. 9—Orchestral program. 11—Robert Merrill, baritone. 15—Laurel Hurley, soprano. 16—Orchestral program. 18—Jan Peerce, tenor. 22—Jorge Bolet, pianist. 23—Orchestral program. 25—Michael Rabin, violinist.

CHILDREN'S CONCERTS: Mr. Hilsberg, conductor, June 26, July 10, July 17.

THE NEW ZOO . . . A CHILD'S DELIGHT

Long a favorite summertime spot for Philadelphians and visitors alike, the world-famous Zoological Garden has added a Children's Zoo. Under expert supervision, the youngsters actually pet rabbits, lambs and bear cubs. Noah's Ark is anchored in a duck pond, with baby animals—two by two, of course—aboard. And there's a Pennsylvania Dutch barn with young farm animals; a chimpanzees' playground; a "wild west" area with trading post, wigwams and pony rides. On exhibit in other sections of the Zoo are more than 1800 mammals, birds and reptiles, many in natural surroundings. Adults 75c, children 2-11 25c. Daily 10-5.

PLAYHOUSE in the PARK

Philadelphia's popular summer tent theater presents Hollywood and Broadway stars in the finest dramas during a 13-week season. The "playhouse" is an air-conditioned tent set amidst tall trees on a grassy Fairmount Park plateau. Inside, 1150 seats completely surround the stage—performances are "in the round." Agatha Christie's Broadway hit "Witness for the Prosecution," starring Basil Rathbone, June 10 through June 22, will launch the season. Later productions will include Giraudoux's "Tiger at the Gates," Coward's "Fallen Angels," and Shaw's "Androcles and the Lion." Evening performances, Monday through Saturday, $1.25 to $2.50. Wednesday and Saturday matinees, $1.20 to $1.80. Information from Playhouse-in-the-Park, Philadelphia 31. GRanite 7-1700.

PHILADELPHIA INTERNATIONAL AIRPORT

This magnificent air terminal attracts hundreds of thousands of visitors. Airliners from points throughout the world land or take off at the rate of one a minute. The view from the observation deck or the long piers stretching into the field is excellent. The terminal houses one of the city's finest restaurants, a cocktail lounge, a soda fountain, an ultra-modern motel, and specialty shops. The field is a short auto or bus ride from downtown Philadelphia. Frequent limousine service also is available direct from center-city hotels.

Vacationing in a BIG CITY

For comfort, convenience and a variety of entertainment, there's nothing like a "big city" vacation. In Phildelphia, there's something doing every minute, and something to please every taste.

For sightseers, there are historic shrines—including Independence Hall—unmatched in the nation; the U. S. Mint and Naval Base; streets almost unchanged since Colonial days; famous antique and curiosity shops, and some of the world's finest museums and art galleries.

Center city has 12 air-conditioned motion picture theaters offering a variety of first-run films. In addition, there will be topflight "live" dramatic presentations, since the 1800-seat Erlanger Theater, at 21st and Market Streets, has been air-conditioned and renovated.

For family or personal shopping there are many major department stores and hundreds of distinctive metropolitan specialty shops.

Philadelphia offers eating delight, too, whether your taste runs to seafood, steaks, or more exotic Chinese, Italian, Greek or Russian delicacies.

In the city's night spots, you'll dance to "name" bands, and enjoy topflight floor shows until "all hours."
